This being the third year since the first publication of the NEWARK CITY DIRECTORY, the editor begs leave to state to the public, that he has spared no labor or expense to render it as perfect as possible. And in striving to make it worthy of public patronage, he was obliged, after originally compiling the names, to re-write the whole manuscript in order to render the second, as well as the first letter of each name, alphabetical; an improvement upon the former editions of the Directory, which will be found very convenient: so that any given name may be found without searching the whole class to which it belongs. In addition to this, he has incurred considerable expense in procuring a cut to represent each trade.

The present volume is in other respects much improved. The editor has incurred very considerable expense in procuring a new map (the second) of the City, as the first did not embrace the whole of the City limits. Much pains has been taken to include all the new streets, and the map will be found, he trusts, a valuable and convenient appendage to the work. It is believed to be the only accurate engraved map extant.

The prefatory memoir has been continued down to the present year, and includes the late official census taken by the City Assessors, in compliance with the order of the Common Council. Besides the Supplement to the City Charter passed at the last session of the Legislature, the names of the members of the City and State Governments for the current year have been added. Other matters of public interest will also be found in its pages.

The editor engaged in this work reluctantly, in compliance with repeated solicitations. After encountering a variety of obstacles, which no one unacquainted with the undertaking can appreciate, he has, he hopes, succeeded in making it a useful volume, and he solicits the patronage of the public to enable him to follow it up hereafter with energy and spirit. In the present state of the population, it is a work that cannot well be dispensed with.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

The Town of Newark was settled in the month of May, 1666, by emigrants from Connecticut. The first English settlement this side the Hudson was commenced at Elizabethtown in 1664, two years previous. In August of the following year Governor Carteret arrived, and sent agents into New England to publish the "concessions" or terms of the Proprietors, and to invite settlers to the new colony. These terms were liberal; and early in the succeeding year (1666) agents were despatched from Guilford, Brandford, and Milford, in Connecticut, to view the country, and to learn more particularly the terms of purchase, as well as the state of the Indians in the vicinity. They returned with a favorable report; especially of the district "beyond the marshes, lying to the north of Elizabethtown," and were forthwith sent back with power to bargain for a township, to select a proper site for a town and to make arrangements for an immediate settlement. To the good judgement of these individuals, who were Captain Robert Treat, John Curtis, Jasper Crane, and John Treat, are we indebted for the plan of our Town,—our wide main streets, (the only ones then laid out,) and the beauty and extent of our public squares.

These preliminaries being arranged, thirty families from the above towns, and New Haven, embarked under the guidance of the exploring agents, and after a passage as long and tedious as a voyage at this time across the Atlantic, arrived in the Passaic river early in the month of May. At this point, however, their progress was impeded. The Hackensack Tribe of Indians, who claimed the soil granted to the agents of the emigrants, by the Governor, met them here, and opposed their landing, until full compensation should be made to them.

The manner in which this difficulty was disposed of, is set forth at large in an affidavit by Capt. Robt. Treat, dated March 13th, 1687, which we find among the documents accompanying the long "Bill in the Chancery of New Jersey," filed in April, 1746, by James Alexander, at the suit of John Earl of Stair, and other claimants under Carteret and Berkely, against certain settlers in Elizabethtown, for the recovery of the lands in that vicinity. This bill* recites at great length the history of the English settlements in East Jersey. The affidavit—which may be found on page 118 of the bill—contains the following interesting narrative. After setting forth that he was then, at the date of the affidavit, "about 64 years of age," and was "one of the company that first settled at Newark," Capt. Treat proceeds—

"That from my discourse and treatise with the Governor, I expected that he would have cleared the plantation from all claims and incumbrances, and given quiet possession, which he had promised to do; but no sooner were we on the place, and landed some of our goods, when I and some others were warned off the ground by the Hackensack Indians, who seemed angry that we had landed any of our goods, although we told them we had the Governor's orders; but they replied the land was theirs, and that it was unpurchased: thereupon we put our goods on board the vessel again, and acquainted the Governor with the matter, and he could not say it was bought of the Indians. I and most of the company were minded to depart, but the Governor, with other gentlemen, were loth to let us go, and advised and encouraged us to go to the Indians, and directed us to one John Capteen, a Dutchman, that was a good interpreter, to go with us; and I with some others and said

* Commonly called "the long bill in Chancery." It was printed in folio form, in the City of New York, in 1747, by James Parker, and with its appendix, comprising a great variety of valuable documents concerning the first settlement of East Jersey, makes a volume of 150 pages.

Capteen went to Hackensack to treat with the Sagamores and other Indian proprietors of the land lying on the west side of Passaic river, about purchasing said lands; and one Perro (an Indian) laid claim to said Passaic lands which is now called Newark; and the result of our treaty was that we obtained of a body of said Indians to give us a meeting at Passaic, and soon after they came, all the proprietors, viz. Perro and his kindred, with the Sagamores that were able to travel; Oraton, being very old, but approved of Perro's acting. And at that meeting with the Indian proprietors, we did agree and bargain with the said Indians for a Tract of their said land on the west side of Passaic river to a place called the Cove, by the said Governor's order and allowance, and upon information thereof he seemed glad of it; and I with some others solicited the Governor to pay for the purchase to the Indians: which he refused and would not disburse anything unless I would reimburse him again; and a bill of sale was made, wherein the purchase of said land will appear, and I can and do testify that the said Indians were duly paid for it according to the Bill wherein we became debtors to the Indians. and not to the Governor, as I judge, and Perro affirmed that he had not sold his land to any before this time."

This tract thus purchased of the Indians is more particularly described in a certificate from Samuel Edsal, who appears to have been one of the negociators, dated March 5th, 1687, which we find on page 117 of the same "Bill in Chancery." In this certificate the writer sets forth the purchase to be "a parcel of land lying and being on the West side of the Kill Van Coll, beginning at the mouth of a certain Creek named Waweyack, (Bound Creek) upon the Bay side; and from thence running up the said Creek to the head of a Cove, and from thence Westward to the foot of the (Newark) Mountain, called by the Indians Watchung; thence running along the said foot of the Mountain, until it meets by an East line with a small river coming from the hills into Passaic river named Jantucuck, (3d river) from thence running down Passaic river, and Arthur Kill Bay, till it meets with the mouth of Waweyack, as above said.

These limits formed the original Township of Newark, comprehending the present township of that name and the Townships of Springfield, Livingston, Orange, Bloomfield, and Caldwell. The price of this purchase was 130*l*. New England currency, 12 Indian blankets, and 12 Indian guns.

It must be satisfactory to every townsman thus to know that every foot of land lying within our bounds was honestly and openly purchased of its original proprietors. However unjustly the aborigines may have been dealt with elsewhere, no act of our ancestors can be pointed to with the slightest reproach by the most jealous advocate of Indian rights.

The settlers first located themselves according to the Towns whence they came, in separate neighborhoods ; but the sense of mutual danger soon induced a change in this respect. On the 21st of May, 1666, delegates from the several towns resolved to form one Township, to provide rules for its government, and "to be of one heart and hand, in endeavoring to carry on their spiritual concernments, as well as their civil and town affairs, according to God and godly government." And for the more speedy accomplishment of their desires, "a committee of eleven were appointed to order and settle the concernments of the people of the place." This committee consisted of Capt. Robert Treat, Lt. Samuel Swain, Samuel Kitchell, Michael Tompkins, Morris Say, Richard Beckly, Richard Harrison, Thomas Blatchly, Ed. Rigs, Stephen Freeman, and Thomas Johnson. The articles of government which they formed, possessed a full portion of the strict, religious spirit of the people. "No person could become a freeman or burgess of their town, or vote in its elections, but such as was a member of some one of the Congregational Churches :---nor be chosen to the magistracy, nor to any other military or civil office." "But all others admitted to be planters, were allowed to inherit and to enjoy all other privileges, save those above excepted." Disregarding the right of the English proprietors of New-Jersey, and apparently with a resolution of disclaiming all fealty towards them, and of depending on their Indian grants, they also resolved "to be ruled by such officers as the town should annually choose from among themselves, and to be governed by the same laws as they had, in the places from whence they came."

In November of this year, "many of the inhabitants of Brandford" appear to have joined their associates in the enterprize. The following document which we copy from the town records, appears to have been signed by them on this occasion, and to have been subsequently endorsed---in June, 1667---by the other male settlers. It will be seen by this document that in June, 1667, the whole population of the town consisted of sixty five efficient men, "besides women and children."

October 30th, 1665.

At a Meeting Touching the Intended design of many of the Inhabitants of Brandford, the following was subscribed —

It will be perceived by these names, comprising the whole number, that a great majority of the original settlers of the town are still represented by a numerous posterity as may be seen by consulting the Directory.

At the first distribution of land, each man took by lot six acres as a homestead; and as the families from each of the several original towns, had established themselves at short distances from those of other towns, the allotments were made to them in their respective quarters of the new settlement. Seven individuals, selected for the purpose, assessed on each settler his portion of the general purchase money. The lands were eventually divided into three ranges; each range into lots, and parcelled by lottery; first setting apart certain portions, called tradesmen's lots; one of which was to be given to the first of every trade, who should settle permanently in the place ; reserving also, the present Upper Green of the town, (now Washington Square) for a market place, and the Lower Green (now called the Park) for a military parade ; and that part of the town in and adjacent to Market street, where the tanneries now are, then a swamp, for a public watering place for cattle. This last portion having been sold by the town, is altogether in possession of individual owners.

In 1667, the Rév. Abraham Pierson, the first minister, commenced his official duties here. He is said to have been "episcopally ordained" at Newark, in South Britain, and to have named this town after that of his ordination : by which name it was sometimes called abroad, but was known at others by that of Milford. In the next year, the first "meeting house," 26 feet wide, 34 long, and 13 between the joists, was erected ; the town voting thirty pounds and directing that every individual should perform such labor as a committee of five might require towards its completion. It was a small frame building, and stood near the centre of the town, fronting on Broad street, on the lot now known as the old town burying ground, opposite to the present building of the First Presbyterian church. Mr. Pierson emigrated to the new world in 1655, and with a few followers settled in or near Guilford, Conn. He was one of those who were dissatisfied with the corrupt and arbitrary character of Church and State in England, and annexed himself to the party then called moderate Presbyterians. He was an old man when the colony settled Newark, and appears to have been eminent for his learning, wisdom, and piety. His salary was fixed at 30*l*.

Arrangements for the "meeting house" having been completed, the town meeting next appointed Henry Lyon to keep a tavern for the entertainment of travellers and strangers, and instructed him "to prepare for it as soon as he can." At the same meeting, in the year 1668, Robert Treat and Sergeant Richard Harrison were appointed to erect a "Grist Mill on the brook at the North end of the town:" setting apart the second and sixth days of the week as grinding days. John Rockwell, of Elizabethtown, was at the same time voted a member of the community upon condition "of his moving here forthwith, and maintaining his present or other sufficient Boat, for the use of the town."

Robert Treat, and Jasper Crane, were chosen the first magistrates, in 1668; and representatives to the first assembly of New Jersey, convened at Elizabethtown, 26th May, of the same year; by which the first state tax, 12*l* sterling, of which the proportion of Newark was 40*s., was laid Mr. Treat was also chosen first recorder or town clerk; and after a residence here of many years, returned to Connecticut, where he became governor, and died. The town also established a court of judicature, holding annually one session, on the last Wednesday of February, and another on the second Wednesday of September; having cognizance of all causes within its limits. On the 24th May, 1669, the first selectmen, five in number, were chosen. The number was subsequently increased to seven, who continued to administer affairs until 1736, when the present township officers were created by law. And in this year Indian hostility appears to have displayed itself in petty robberies and depredations, the increase of which, in 1675, induced the townsmen to fortify their church as a place of refuge, in case of general attack, and to take proper measures of watch and ward.

* This Assembly consisted of seven in Council, besides the Governor, and ten Burgesses; two from Bergen; two from Newark; two from Elizabethtown; two from Woodbridge; and two from Middletown and Shrewsbury.

About this period the Rev. Mr. Pierson had become so infirm, that the town made out a call to his son, Abraham Pierson, Jun., to become his colleague. He had been educated at Cambridge, and was distinguished for his talents and accomplishments, but had neither the meekness nor prudence of his father. He continued here only a few years after his father's death, which occurred in 1680, but removed to Killingworth Conn., where he died in 1708. His reputation for learning was so high, that he was chosen the first President of the College of Connecticut, (now Yale College,) on its institution in 1701. Mr. Pierson was succeeded in the pastoral office at Newark by Mr. John Prudden, who finally relinquished it, after serving twelve or thirteen years, in favor of Mr. Jabez Wakeman, a young man of distinguished attainments. Mr. W. died in 1704, and was succeeded by Mr. Nathaniel Bowers.

The year 1676 was distinguished by the establishment of the first School; and the selectmen "agreed with Mr. John Catlin to instruct their children and servants in as much English reading, writing, and arithmetic as he could teach." Mr. Catlin was also chosen Attorney for the Town, and appears to have been the first lawyer settled here. About the same time, measures were taken to invite mechanics to the place. The first shoemaker appears to have been Samuel Whitehead, of Elizabethtown, who was formally admitted a member of the community, on condition of his supplying it with shoes. The first Tannery was established in 1698, at the "swamp or watering place."

The Town appears to have been early celebrated for its Cider. Gov. Carteret writes to the Proprietors in England, in 1682,—“At Newark is made great quantities of cider, exceeding any we can have from New England, Rhode Island, or Long Island,” which is the first mention we find of this famous article. The Governor also speaks of the place at this time, as a compact town of about one hundred families, and that it is the only place in the Province provided with a settled preacher, following no other employment. The town appears also to have obtained the character abroad of being an unhealthy place, subject to fever and agues, and intermittents, which is supposed to have retarded its growth.

During the ministry of Mr. Bowers, a new and larger church was agreed upon. The walls were put up in 1708, a few steps north of the first building on the same lot. This was a heavy undertaking, much beyond the means of the people. Although the place had been settled forty years, it is said that when the walls were knee high, the whole population, men, women, and children, "could have sat upon them." The interior was not entirely finished within thirty years. It is said to have been the most elegant edifice at that time in the colony.

On the 23d October, 1676, a warrant was granted by the Governor, for 200 acres of land and meadow, for parsonage ground, and also, for so much as was necessary for landing places, school house, town house, market place, &c.; and in 1696, a patent from the proprietaries to the town, covered all the lots, in various parts of the township, called "Parsonage Lands;" which have been since divided, with some difficulty and contention, among five churches, viz: three of the Presbyterian, and the Episcopal, at Newark, and the First Presbyterian church at Orange.

The London Church Missionary Society, about the year 1732, sent out a number of missionaries, some of whom settled at Elizabethtown, and other places in the neighborhood of Newark, where they occasionally preached. This gave rise to serious contentions among the colonists on the subject of church government. In this town a few of the leading individuals declared themselves dissatisfied with the Presbyterian form, and in favor of the Episcopal mode, as practised in South Britain. During this controversy, which occurred under the ministry of Mr. Joseph Webb, the immediate successor of Mr. Bowers, the present Episcopal church was instituted. The church appears to have originated in 1734, with Col. Josiah Ogden and others, who took occasion to leave the Presbyterians in consequence of the rigor with which he was treated for saving his grain in a wet harvest on the Sabbath. The present church edifice was built in 1808, on the site of the original building.

Mr. Webb was dismissed in 1736. The Presbyterian church then called the Rev. Aaron Burr, the father of the late Vice President of the United States, who was subsequently born in the town. Mr. Burr was distinguished as an eminent scholar and divine, and enjoyed reputation abroad as well as at home. He established a Latin School soon after his settlement here, and the town in his time, we are told, "flourished exceedingly in trade, manufactures, and agriculture; growing in wealth, population, and respectability, far beyond any thing which it had before attained."

In 1721, the first freestone was quarried for market; and this article, celebrated for its excellent quality, has long been a subject of export.

During the years 1745, 6 and 7, a great excitement existed in the vicinity, arising out of contentions between the settlers and the English proprietors concerning the title to the lands. The settlers held under their Indian title, and refused to recognize any other. In 1745 and 6, there were two great riots at Newark, in each of which the jail was broken open by large mobs, and the prisoners held by suits in favor of the English proprietors, set at liberty. The same parties liberated other prisoners for the same cause, at Elizabethtown and Somerville.

In the year 1746, the College of New Jersey, (now located at Princeton,) was instituted at Elizabethtown, under the Presidency of Jonathan Dickinson, who is reported to have been an eminent scholar. Mr. D. died the next year, and the Trustees then confided the students to the care of Mr. Burr, at Newark, who thus became the second President of the College. Here the institution continued to flourish for eight years, at the expiration of which period the Trustees determined to locate it permanently at Princeton. After much controversy between the Trustees and the congregation, Mr. Burr's pastoral relation was dissolved in the winter of 1755, and in the October following he removed to Princeton with the College, where he died in September, 1767. The congregation continued without a pastor until 1759, when they united in a call to the Rev. Alexander McWhorter. Mr. McWhorter preached his first sermon here on the 28th June of that year, and continued to preside over the church, with an intermission of one or two years, until his death in 1807—a period of nearly half a century. It would hardly be just to the memory of this estimable and eminent man, not to add that his labors as a minister and a citizen, contributed largely to the character and increase of the town. He stood foremost among the men who adorned the American church during the latter part of the last century, which is no mean praise. A marble slab in the wall at the right of the pulpit in the church which was built chiefly through his instrumentality, worthily commemorates his worth, and the gratitude of the people for whom and with whom he labored. In 1765 the first public Library was established.

At the commencement of the revolutionary war, the town was much divided upon the questions agitating the country; and on the Declaration of Independence, by the State, several families, among whom was Mr. Brown, pastor of the Episcopal church, who had ministered from its foundation, joined the royalists in New York. From its vicinage to that strong hold of the enemy, the town suffered greatly, by the visitations of regular troops and marauders. On the 22d of November, 1776, Gen. Washington entered Newark on his retreat through New Jersey, having crossed the Passaic by the Aquackanonck bridge, with a force of 3500, comprising Beal's, Heard's, and part of Irvine's brigades. Here the troops remained encamped until the morning of the 28th, when Lord Cornwallis entered the town from New York, and the American forces retreated towards New Brunswick and the Delaware. Each army was thus for a season quartered upon the inhabitants of the town, and the British commander in pursuing the Americans left a strong guard behind, which remained here until after his discomfiture at Trenton. Foraging parties, and bands of plunderers in the garb of the enemy, kept the neighborhood in continual alarm through several years. On the night of the 25th of January, 1780, a regiment of 500 men, commanded by Colonel Lumm, came from New York, following the river on the ice, and burned the academy, then standing on the upper green. This was a stone building, two stories high, with apartments for the teacher. On the same night another British party, unknown to the first, fired the Presbyterian church at Elizabethtown, the light from which alarmed the incendiaries at Newark, and caused their hasty retreat. They carried away with them Joseph Hedden, Esq., an active whig, who had zealously opposed their previous depredations; dragging him from a sick bed, and compelling him to follow, with no other than his night clothing. The party returned by the route by which they came; and a soldier, more humane than his fellows, gave Mr. H. a blanket, a short time before they reached Paulus Hook. At this place Mr. H. was confined in a sugar house, where he perished in a few days in consequence of his sufferings that night.

About this period, and during the war, the average population of the town was less than 1000. In the year 1777, there were only 141 dwelling houses; of which 38 were in that part of the town now comprised within the limits of the North Ward, 50 in the South Ward, 28 in the East, and 25 in the West Ward.

The present public bridge over the Passaic was originally built about the year 1792. Previous to the Revolution, and up to this period, the business on the river was chiefly transacted at Lowe & Camp's dock, now known as the stone dock, some hundred yards north of the old bridge. The first public road to New York communicated with Market street, and led across the upland and meadow by a ferry near the bay. On the construction of the present causeway, the "old ferry road" was abandoned.

The "Newark Academy" was established by an Association in 1792: it was subsequently distinguished for many years as one of the largest and most prominent academic institutions in the country.

Soon after the close of the war, arrangements were made by the Presbyterians for the erection of another and better house of worship. The corner stone of the First Presbyterian Church was laid by Dr. McWhorter in 1787: on the first of January, 1791, it was opened for public worship. After the completion of this building, the old church was converted into a Court House, for which purpose it was used until the erection, in 1807, of the building destroyed by fire during the summer of 1835. In 1801 the Rev. Edward D. Griffin, now President of Williams College, was associated with Dr. McWhorter, as colleague. The entire charge of the congregation devolved upon Dr. G. at the death of this venerable divine, in 1808. He resigned the station in 1809, for a professorship at Andover, and was succeeded by the Rev. Dr. Richards, who removed to Auburn in 1823. The following year the church called the Rev. Wm. T. Hamilton, who resigned in the fall of 1834, and was succeeded during the last summer by the Rev. A. D. Eddy. The Second Presbyterian Church was erected in 1808, and the Rev. Hooper Cumming installed its first pastor. He was succeeded by Dr. Griffin, who resigned the charge on being appointed President of Williams College. Dr. G. has recently resigned his station in the College, and has returned to reside in Newark. The Rev. Philip C. Hay then became pastor of the church. After his resignation the Rev. Mr. Cheever was called to the station. In 1824, the Third Presbyterian Church was organized, under the Rev. J. T. Russell, who was succeeded by the Rev. Baxter Dickinson. Mr. D. resigned the charge in 1835 for a professorship in Lane Seminary (Cincinnati), and the congregation soon after made out a call to Mr. Selah B. Treat, of Connecticut, the present pastor. The Fourth Presbyterian Church, of which the Rev. Dr. Weeks is the present pastor, was instituted in the year 1831. A fifth Presbyterian Church, known as the 1st Free Church, was organized during the year 1834. In 1836 a 2d Free (Presbyterian) Church was organized; and in January of the present year another society entitled The Central Presbyterian Church was formed, and the Rev. C. Hoover, late of Morristown, has been duly installed its pastor. The society is about to build a house of worship in Market street.

The Episcopal church was placed under the care of the Rev. Uzal Ogden soon after the war. After him came the Rev. Joseph Willard, Rev. Lewis P. Bayard, Rev. H. P. Powers, and the Rev. Matthew L. Henderson, the present incumbent. In 1808 the church edifice was rebuilt.

In 1801 the First Baptist church was constituted under the Rev. Charles Lahatt: a meeting house was erected in 1804, and rebuilt in 1810. The following are the succeeding pastors of this church, viz: Rev. Peter Thurston, installed in 1808; Rev. Daniel Sharp, in 1809; Rev. Job Lamb, in 1812; Rev. Ed. Jones, in 1814; Rev. Daniel Putnam, in 1822; Rev. Ebenezer Loomis, in 1826; Rev. J. S. C. F. Frey, in 1828; Rev. P. L. Platt, in 1830; and the present incumbent, Rev. Daniel Dodge, who succeeded in 1832. A second Baptist church was organized in 1833.

The first Methodist Episcopal society was formed in 1806, by the Rev. David Bartine. There are now two large congregations, each having neat and convenient houses of worship. The first Chapel, in Halsey street, was erected in 1810, at which time there were but thirty members, who enjoyed only such ministerial services as could be rendered by two preachers, whose sphere of duty embraced large portions of Essex, Bergen, and Morris Counties, including Staten Island, then known as "the Essex and Staten Island Circuit." In 1818, the Society was greatly increased under the labors of the Rev. Joseph Iybrand, and from that time it has steadily progressed, and is now grown into two large congregations. It has since been under the pastoral care of the Rev. Messrs. Cremer, Martindale, Thatcher, Lushing, Kennedy, Porter, Gelder, Higgins, Thompson, Matthias, and Atwood.

A Dutch Reformed Church was established in the year 1834, and the Rev. Ransford Wells elected pastor. The society have since built a large and elegant brick church in Market street.

A Catholic Church was commenced in 1824, and completed the year following. The Primitive Methodists also have a Church, and there are two African Churches. The Universalists formed a society a few years since, and now have a neat house of worship in Clinton street.

In 1804 the Newark Banking & Insurance Company was chartered, with a capital of $400,000, and this was for a number of years the only Bank in this part of New Jersey.

We have thus summarily gone over our early history. It remains for us now only to refer to the present advanced condition and prospects of the place.

Perhaps no town in the Union has more steadily advanced, or experienced a more healthy growth, since the introduction of the business of manufacturing. In a description of Newark written in 1806, it is represented as one of the most pleasant and flourishing villages in the United States, noted for its cider, its quarries, the manufacture of carriages, coach lace, and shoes. One third of the inhabitants, it is said, were constantly employed in the manufacture of shoes alone. This is the first mention which we find of manufacturing as the chief business of the Town, and from that period to the present, there has been a steady increase ---both in the branches of manufactures, and in the amount produced. The value and blessings of domestic industry are happily illustrated in this progress; and it is a fact worthy of record, that while our citizens individually have been the architects of their own fortunes, so our town collectively is not indebted to any adventitious causes for its advancement, but has grown and flourished solely by industry, frugality, and enterprise; and it now ranks among the first inland towns in the United States.

The population in 1810, including the township, which then embraced the present township of Clinton, was not far from 6,000. In 1826 the number had increased to 8,017; and in 1830 to 10,995. In 1833 the population was estimated at 15,000, and the number of dwellings at 1,712.

According to the Census completed in September 1836, under the direction of the City Council, the Population and Buildings of Newark were as follows :—

It would appear by these estimates that the period of the town's greatest prosperity and increase, is the interval since 1830. During this time the population has more than doubled, allowance being made for the number set off with the new township; and the increase of its capital and business is probably in a much greater ratio.

There are four Banks and three Insurance Companies, viz: "The Newark Banking and Insurance Co.," incorporated in 1804, with a capital of $400,000; "State Bank," in 1812, with a capital of $400,000; "The Mechanics' Bank," in 1831, with a capital of $500,000; and the "Bank of New Jersey," in 1837, with a capital of $1,500,000. The Insurance Companies are the Newark Mutual, the Mechanics', and the New Jersey. The capital stock of the first two Banks was increased by the Legislature in 1836, $300,000 each.

The Morris Canal was completed in 1832, thus furnishing the town a direct and easy communication with the Delaware at Easton, and the Lehigh Coal Mines at Mauch Chunk. The New Jersey Railroad and Transportation Company opened their road to Jersey City on the 15th of September, 1834. Some idea may be formed of the amount of business on this road, and of the intercourse between this city and the great Commercial Metropolis, by the following statement, furnished from the books of the Company. It should also be observed that beside this mode of communication, there is a Steam Boat, which is fully patronized:

Statement of the number of passengers carried on the New Jersey Railroad, from its opening, September 15th, 1834, to April 9th, 1837, furnished from the Books of the Company.

During the first seven and a half months there were carried	60,064
During the year ending 1st May, 1836,	178,751
During the year ending 9th April, 1837,	339,351

The Railroad opened for use from Rahway and Elizabeth-town to New York on the 1st January, 1836, and from East Brunswick (opposite New Brunswick) July 10th, 1836. The whole of the present line of Railroad has not been in use a full year, and as the viaduct over the Raritan is not yet finished, the business arising from the extended part is but partially developed. The number of passengers which have been carried to and from Newark and E. Brunswick and the intermediate places, exclusive of the passengers between Newark and New York, during the year ending April 9th, 1837, is - - - - - *102,931

The number carried between Newark and New York in the same time, - 236,420

Whole number during the year as above stated, - - - - - 339,351

The Increase of passengers for the first quarter of the present year, over the first quarter of the last year, is as follows:—

In January, February, and March, 1836, 41,741

In January, February, and March, 1837, 69,228

The increase would have been greater if the business of the cities of New York and Newark and the country generally had not been so depressed, but the vast number of passengers compared with what were carried before the construction of the Railroad, fully proves that the travelling facilities now enjoyed by Newark has greatly increased the intercourse of Newark with New York and the different places on the line of the Railroad. A further increase may be anticipated from the construction of the continuous line of Railroad across the State, for the completion of which an Act was passed at the last session of the Legislature of this State, and accepted by the Joint Companies, who are required to finish this connecting link of Railroad as soon as the New Jersey Railroad is in use to New Brunswick. This work will not only be highly advantageous to this city in its southern intercourse, but beneficial to the State and to the whole community, and will greatly augment the revenue of the New Jersey Railroad and Transportation Company.

During the session of Congress of 1833-4, the town was made a Port of Entry, and Archer Gifford, Esq., appointed Collector. The Whaling Company, incorporated the year previous, fitted out a vessel during the summer of 1835, which returned safe after a voyage of twenty-seven months, with a full cargo of 3,000 barrels of oil and 15,000 pounds of bone: another vessel was fitted out in 1836, of the large class, and it is expected that a third will be fitted out this summer. There has also been a corresponding increase in the trade with the city of New York, and the northern and eastern ports; in which trade nearly 100 vessels are constantly employed, several of them being exclusively engaged in the coal trade, as connected with the Morris Canal. It is proper also to remark that the fuel for the consumption of the city is chiefly supplied by this Canal.

During the year 1835, it was ascertained, after careful investigation, by a competent committee, that the annual exports of the town to the southern ports of the United States, South America, and the West India Islands, exceed the immense amount of EIGHT MILLIONS OF DOLLARS.

These exports consist chiefly of the manufactured goods produced in our numerous factories, such as saddlery and harness, carriages, shoes, hats and caps, coach springs and lamps, plated ware, brass and iron castings, cutlery, coach lace, patent leather, malleable iron, window blinds and sashes, cabinet ware, sitting chairs, jewelry, planes, ready made clothing, trunks, &c. &c. &c.

Besides the immense amount of goods of these descriptions, manufactured for foreign markets, large quantities of various other kinds are produced for consumption at home.

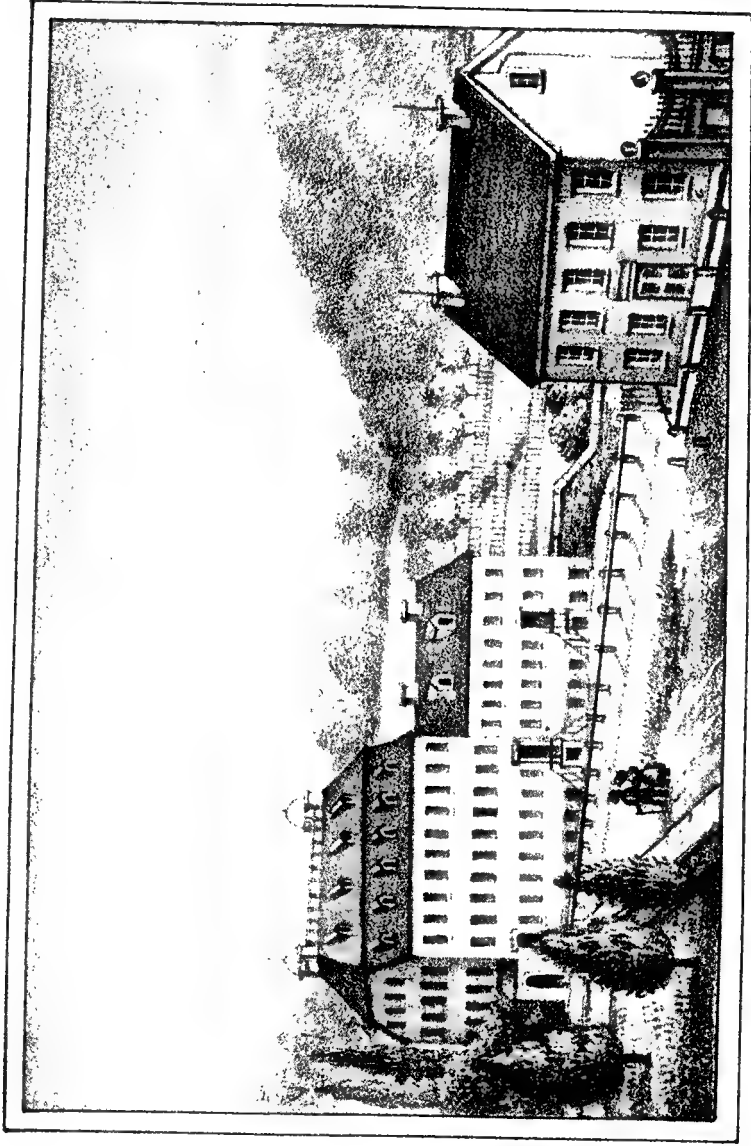

The increase in the population and business of the town has been much greater during the past year than within any corresponding period. New streets have been opened in every direction: large numbers of buildings of almost every description have gone up, including a number of the largest manufacturing establishments in the place; real estate has advanced beyond all former precedent; and every interest of society is springing forward with unexampled energy.

TWELVE BRIEF DESCRIPTIONS OF CHURCHES, SCHOOLS, AND OTHER BUILDINGS

Erected by the United Brethren in America.

BETHLEHEM—NORTHAMPTON CO., PENNSYLVANIA, is situated on the banks of the Lehigh, a branch of the Delaware, fifty miles north of Philadelphia, and about eighty-two miles west of New York. It is one of the earliest and the principal settlement of the United Brethren in North America. Their attention was first drawn to the new world in 1735, when a colony was formed in Georgia. Circumstances compelling them to relinquish that station, they accepted an offer from the Rev. George Whitfield, to aid him in improving a tract of land in Pennsylvania purchased by him, and called Nazareth; but a difference of opinion terminated the engagement. At this juncture, a tract of land near the forks of the Delaware was tendered to the Brethren, who effected the purchase in 1741, and began a settlement which they named Bethlehem. A wooden building subsequently rough cast on the right of the present church contained the first place of worship, and apartments for the ministers. A larger house becoming necessary, one of stone was built adjoining the former, accommodating 3 or 400 persons. Connected with this, another stone building, with a small belfry, was erected for the purposes of education. The spacious edifice now occupied as the Young Ladies' Seminary, in the front was built A. D. 1748, but adapted to the use of that institution at a later period. On the 16th of April, 1803, the corner stone of the present church was laid. It is a massive building of stone, covered with stucco—145 feet in front, and 70 in depth—including the two wings, each 27 feet in front. The place of worship occupies the centre, being 90 feet in length, 60 in breadth, and 33 in height. At the east end, between two small galleries, is the pulpit; below which, on an elevated platform, is placed the table for sacramental and other occasions. The ground floor of the east wing contains the archives and library of the church, and a conference and vestry room. A flight of steps leads to an apartment above, 41 by 22 feet, for week day evening services and other meetings. At the west end of the church is a gallery, occupying the whole upper story of that wing, and containing a large and superior organ. Below are other apartments for various purposes connected with divine worship. The whole is surmounted by a handsome cupola. This church was consecrated April 18th, A. D. 1806. At the close of 1835, the congregation consisted of 700 souls, of which number 420 were communicants.

The following ministers labored here in succession :

1741. Peter Boehler, Count Nicholas Louis de Zinzendorf.

1742. David Nitschman and Anthony Seyffert.

1744. August G. Spangenberg, Daniel Bryzelius, John Christopher Pyrlæus, Christian Henry Rauch, Martin Mack, Samuel Krause, J. Michael Gruff.

1748. John Frederick Cammerhof.

1751. Matthew Hehl.

1754. Peter Boehler.

1757. Nathaniel Seidel.

1758. Amadeus Paulinus Thrane.

1764. John Ettwein.

1781. John Andrew Huebener.

1790. John August Klingsohr.

1798. Jacob Van Vleck, Christian Schaaf, John G. Cunow.

1801. Andrew Benade.

1802. George Henry Loskiel.

1811. Charles G. Reichel.

1817. Charles F. Seidel.

1818. Christian G. Hueffel.

1819. John Frederick Fruauf.

1821. Louis David de Schweinitz.

1828. John Daniel Anders.

1834. Philip Henry Goepp.

1836. Andrew Benade.

A Seminary for Young Ladies has flourished here since 1786, during which period 1980 pupils have entered the institution. The following Brethren have filled the office of Inspectors or Principals :

1786. John Andrew Huebener.

1790. Jacob Van Vleck.

1800. Andrew Benade.

1813. Lewis Huebener.

1814. John G. Cunow, Charles G. Reichel, John F. Staudiger.

1816. Henry Steinbauer.

1818. Charles F. Seidel.

1819. John Frederick Fruauf.

1821. Lewis David de Schweinitz.

1822. Charles F. Seidel.

1836. John G. Kummer, the present incumbent.

Terms are as follows, viz : For Board and Tuition, including Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, Grammar, History, Geography, the use of the Globes, Botany, plain and ornamental Needlework, per quarter, in advance, $30. Entrance money $6. Instruction in Music, French drawing, Painting on velvet, Ebony work, Ribbon work, and Worsted work, each per quarter, $3. Washing, per quarter, $4. For the use of a Library, $2. Age of admission, between 8 and 16.

Applications received by

REV. JOHN G. KUMMER.

NAZARETH—NORTHAMPTON Co., PA.—This settlement of the United Brethren is situated 10 miles north of Bethlehem, 60 in the same direction from Philadelphia, and 77 from New York. The Nazareth tract of land was purchased in the year 1743, from the Rev. George Whitfield, who had begun to erect a large stone edifice, now called Ephratah, which the Brethren afterwards finished, and appropriated as a place of worship in 1744. It is still to be seen, to the east of the present settlement.

Nazareth Hall, the centre building, was originally intended for the residence of Count Zinzendorf. The corner stone was laid on the 3d of May, 1755; the dimensions of the house, which is of stone, being 96 feet in length, 46 in depth, and 90 in height, to the ball of the steeple. The first story contains the present place of worship, which was consecrated Nov. 13, 1756, and has since been furnished with a large organ. The upper part of the edifice was occupied as a school for boys, from 1759 to 1779. Contiguous to the square in front of the Hall, the village of Nazareth was laid out in 1771. The number of souls belonging to the congregation at the close of 1835 was 390, of whom 250 were communicants. Besides the Brethren Peter Boehler, Anthony Seyffert, David Bruce, Adolph Meyer, Bernhard Adam Grube, August G. Spangenberg, Christian Bader, David Zeisberger, Andrew Busse, John Meder, &c., who labored here at different times, the following ministers officiated in succession :

- 1755. John Michael Graff.
- 1757. Francis Christian Lembke.
- 1785. Charles G. Reichel.
- 1802. Jacob Van Vleck.
- 1809. Charles F. Seidel.
- 1811. Abraham Reinke.
- 1814. John F. Fruauf.
- 1817. John C. Beckler.
- 1819. Emmanuel Rondthaler.
- 1822. William H. Van Vleck.
- 1829. John G. Herman.

On the 3d of October, 1785, a Boarding School for Young Gentlemen was opened at Nazareth Hall, which institution upwards of 800 pupils have entered within the first 50 years. The number of teachers has been 93. The office of Inspector or Principal, for whose dwelling the brick house on the left was erected in 1820, has been filled by the following Brethren :

1785. Charles G. Reichel.

1802. Jacob Van Vleck.

1809. Charles Frederick Seidel.

1817. John Christian Beckler.

1822. William H. Van Vleck.

1829. John G. Herman.

1837. Charles A. Van Vleck, the present incumbent.

In the year 1807, a Theological Seminary was first instituted at Nazareth Hall, and subsequently revived in 1820. Upwards of 30 students have entered the Seminary during this period. At the commencement the average number of pupils was small, but of late years it has averaged at about 60, besides day scholars. The terms are $35 per quarter for Board and Tuition, with a separate charge of $3 per quarter for washing. Age of admission, from 8 to 13 years. There is also a Sisters' house, which was erected A. D. 1784, and it contains at present about 30 inmates.

PHILADELPHIA, PA.—In the year 1741, Count Zinzendorf arrived in America, and for a twelvemonth labored as a minister of the Lutheran Church at Philadelphia. The following year, the first church of the United Brethren was erected in this city, at the corner of Race and Bread streets, or Moravian Alley. It was built of brick, and consecrated by Count Zinzendorf, Dec. 31, 1742. The present place of worship was erected nearly on the same spot, and consecrated Dec. 12, 1819. It is a neat brick edifice, 44 feet in front and 52 in depth. The new Parsonage was built in 1827, on the site of the former dwelling, the latter being in the rear, and approached through a court leading to the main entrance, which faces the north. There are doors also on the east and west sides, and a vestry on the south, from which the minister enters the pulpit. The church is furnished with spacious galleries, in which the Sunday School is held, and a fine organ was put up in 1826. The present number of souls belonging to the congregation is 450, of whom 110 are communicants.

1741. Count Nicholas Louis de Zinzendorf,
John Christopher Pylæus.

1743. Peter Boehler, Matthew Reitz, Reinhard Ronner, Andrew Eschenbach, John Bechtel, Daniel Neupert.

1747. Abraham Reinke, Sen., to 1752..

1749. August G. Spangenberg, Richard Utley, Frederick Cammerhof, Herman Jacob Rogers, John Brandmuller, Christopher Frank, John Valentine Haidt, Thomas Yarrel, Christian Otto Krogstrup, George Soelle, Henry Beck.
1762. George Neisser.
1764. Charles Godfrey Rundt.
1766. Jacob Fries.
1777. Daniel Sydrich.
1786. John Meder.
1799. John Frederick Fruauf.
1803. Joseph Zaeslein.
1812. John Christian Beckler.
1813. John Meder.
1814. George G. Miller.
1817. William H. Van Vleck.
1822. Samuel Reinke.
1823. John G. Herman.
1826. Peter Wolle.

NEW YORK, IN THE STATE OF NEW YORK.—The arrival of Brethren from various quarters, and their departure from this port for different parts of the world, gave rise to the establishment of a little society in connection with them as early as 1741. In the year 1748 a regular congregation was organized by Bishop John de Watteville. The first place of worship was built in 1751, in Fair, now Fulton street, between Nassau and William streets. It was a brick building, and was consecrated by Bishop Spangenberg, on the 18th of June, 1752; in which year also a dwelling for the minister was erected in front of the church. In 1828 a new Parsonage was commenced in the rear, and fronting on Dutch street. The old building being removed, a new brick church was erected, fronting on Fulton street, and consecrated Nov. 22, 1829. It is 40 feet in front, and was originally 60 feet in depth, but by the widening of the street in 1836 is reduced to 52 feet. Over the front doors is a gallery with a fine organ put up in 1835. The pulpit is at the opposite end of the church, which is connected with the dwelling by a room for the Sunday School and week day evening meetings. The present number of souls belonging to the congregation is 250, of whom 100 are communicants.

The following ministers labored here (and on Long Island) in succession:

1740. Peter Boehler.

STATEN ISLAND, RICHMOND Co., N. Y.—The Brethren arriving at New York from various quarters, became acquainted with pious persons in New Jersey, on Long Island, and Staten Island, among whom they in the sequel ministered from time to time in the gospel. In 1763 the friends on Staten Island erected a church and minister's dwelling, about five miles from the Quarantine and two miles from Richmond; and the same year a minister was regularly settled there, but the little flock remained in connection with the church at New York for some time longer. The above building, which is still occupied, is of wood; the church, which is about 30 feet square, being repaired and improved in 1834. It is furnished with a pulpit, and a small organ in the gallery over the entrance. An addition to the dwelling was put up in 1825. The situation is picturesque, being on a rising ground facing the sea. The number of souls scattered over the Island who belong to the congregation is about 120, of whom 20 are communicants.

The following ministers labored here in succession :

1749. John Wade.
 1750. Owen Rice.
 1754. Jasper Payne, Richard Utley.
 1756. Jacob Rogers.
 1757. Thomas Yarrell, also in 1762 and 1763.
 1761. George Soelle.
 1763. Hector Gambold.
 1784. James Birkby, E. Thorp.
 1787. Frederick Mohring.
 1794. James Birkby.
 1798. Frederick Mohring.
 1803. Nathaniel Brown.
 1813. John Christian Beckler.
 1817. George A. Hartman.

The Principal feels grateful for the liberal encouragement which he has received from his numerous patrons in different and distant parts of the country in the commencement of his undertaking, and flatters himself that he will be fully able to meet the enlarged expectations of his friends in the future operations of this Institution. It is his honest intention to furnish the community with an institution that will not suffer in comparison with any seminary in the country. But in order to do this he is sensible of the importance of securing the hearty and active co-operation of the friends of education generally, and earnestly solicits an interest in their fostering regards. He doubts not that a discerning community will be ever ready to bestow rewards of merit; and as he asks for nothing more, he proceeds with alacrity and confidence, and hopes that his labors may not be in vain.

In order that some data of the labor of teaching and the expense of providing for it may be afforded, the following list of classes taught during the session of which the present catalogue shows the number of pupils, has been prepared and is here inserted. Nearly all of these classes recite daily, and some of them recite two or three times a day.

FEMALE DEPARTMENT.

Most of the classes in both departments of the school have been large, and have required uncommon attention and pains. And had our labors been confined to school hours, it would have been impossible to have gone through with our regular duties with any kind of satisfaction to ourselves or justice to our pupils. But day and night have been devoted to the interest of the school. And the Principal takes this opportunity of acknowledging with gratitude the cheerfulness with which his teachers have assisted him in the performance of these extra duties. But for such help he must have employed at least one additional teacher. He considers this acknowledgment but a just tribute of merit.

The Principal lectures his whole school on subjects relating to manners, morals, and religion, on Wednesday evening of each week. And particular attention is paid to composition and declamation throughout the whole course.

Thus it may be seen what an amount of labor is required, and some estimate may be formed of the probable expense of providing for it. Let it be considered also that none are employed to perform this labor but well qualified and experienced teachers ; and that such instructors always expect ample remuneration for their services. Considering therefore the amount of labor to be performed, the increased expenses of living, the cost of extending the accommodations of the academy, the more abundant means to pay, &c., &c., it is but fair that more should be paid. The Principal will therefore feel himself justified in varying his prices for the future according to circumstances. Let it be observed, however, that the advance in his prices for the winter session will no more than meet the increased expenses of fuel and lights, which are as follows, viz :

Boarders, $120 per annum, or $60 per session, $30 payable in advance, and the remainder at the close of the session. For this sum the pupil is entitled to board, washing, fuel, lights, and to tuition in any or all of the branches constituting the extensive course of English studies here pursued. The boarders are expected to furnish their own beds, bedding, towels, and other chamber furniture ; or these can be furnished at the Institution on reasonable terms. Extra charges are made for Music on the piano, with use of instrument, $10 per quarter ; extra Singing lessons, $5 do. ; the Greek language, $5 do. ; the Latin language, $5 do. ; the French language, $5 do. ; Drawing and Painting, $4 do. ; Needle work, $3 do.

Day scholars—For the introductory or first class of English studies, $10 per session or $5 per quarter. These are Reading, Spelling and Defining, elements of Grammar, rudiments of Geography, the first principles of Arithmetic, and Writing. For the second class, $14 per session, or $7 per quarter. This class embraces all the English studies included in a thorough academical course. Extra branches the same as for boarders. Books and stationery furnished at the lowest retail prices ; or if distant parents prefer a stipulated sum for stationery, the charges will be $3 per session.

Pupils will be admitted at any age ; but none will be admitted for a shorter period than one session ; and with the distinct understanding that they are to attend the examination at the close of the session in which they enter, and to remain until it is closed ; which will be on Wednesday evening, 22 weeks from the commencement of the session. The academical year, exclusive of vacations, consists of 44 weeks, divided into two sessions. The first session commences on the first Wednesday in May, and continues 22 weeks : the second commences on the first Wednesday of November, and continues 22 weeks.

The Principal begs indulgence to address to his worthy patrons and the public at large, a word or two on the subject of Education in general. It should be impressed upon the mind of every father, that education is better for his children than fortune ; that the one is comparatively worthless, while the other is of paramount importance ; that the one can at most only afford pleasure in this world, but that the other may confer immortal delight. And let every youth feel that this is his good sword by which fame and fortune are to be won ; this his precious jewel, worth more to him than the wealth of Orinus or of India. If our youth are to fill with credit the various municipal and professional offices which the country requires ; if they are to be skillful physicians, successful lawyers, intelligent merchants ; if, as Jurymen, they are to decide with wisdom in difficult causes where the life or the property of a fellow-being hangs on their judgment ; if, as magistrates, they are to perform the duties of their office with dignity and discretion ; or if, as representatives, they are to represent not merely the will or the wealth, but the wisdom of their constituents : in all these cases, it will be admitted that they need a portion of judicious, well directed Education.

Let it be considered, also, how large a portion of the crimes committed in our country are directly attributable to ignorance—how much shame and disgrace not unfrequently follow in the train, and then answer it : is not knowledge better than silver, and understanding than fine gold ?

Newton is in every respect a very desirable location for such an Institution. It is a pleasant and healthful place, with a population of about 2000,—is 58 miles from New York, and 49 from Newark, having daily communication with these cities by a mail stage. It is the county town, and under good moral and religious influence. The site is altogether delightful, commanding a beautiful view of the village and the surrounding country. The schoolrooms are spacious and airy, and both the Dwelling House and Academy are every way adapted to a School consisting of a Male and Female Department.

There are in the village four denominations of christians—Presbyterian, Episcopal, Methodist, and Baptist ; with either of which the pupils are permitted to worship, according to the desire of their parents or guardians.

It is expected that all the pupils from abroad will board at the establishment, where they will meet with the kindest maternal treatment, and be always under the paternal oversight of the Principal and the Assistant Teachers. Each pupil should be supplied with a Bible. No labor or expense will be spared to facilitate the improvement of the pupils who enter this Institution ; and parents may rely on a careful attention to the personal safety of their sons and daughters.

The Principal wishes the dress of his pupils during school hours to consist of some unexpensive material, made in plain style. Parents and guardians are earnestly requested not to leave with their children or wards the control of money ; and to be particular in directing what, if any, of the ornamental branches they wish them to pursue, and what church to attend.

A SUPPLEMENT

To the Act, entitled An Act to incorporate the City of Newark.

Sec. 1. Be it enacted by the Council and General Assembly of this State, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That in case any officer elected at the annual elections to be held in the City of Newark, under and by virtue of the fifth and sixth sections of the Act to which this is a supplement, shall neglect to take upon himself the execution of his office in the manner prescribed in said Act; or in case any vacancy shall happen, by the death, removal, resignation or other disqualification to act of any of the officers mentioned, and provided for in the said fifth and sixth sections of the Act to which this is a supplement; it shall be lawful for the Common Council of the said City, if they think proper, to order a new election to be held in the several wards of said City, or in the ward in which such vacancy has taken place, to supply such vacancy, of which new election the same notice shall be given as is required by said Act to be given of the holding of the annual elections in the said City, and the said new election shall be conducted and the result ascertained in the manner prescribed by said Act for the conducting and ascertaining the result of the annual election in the said City for the like officer.

Sec. 2. And be it enacted, That in case any person who shall at any annual election to be held in said City, be elected clerk of said City, shall neglect for the space of three days to take upon himself the execution of the said office in the manner prescribed in said Act, or it shall so happen that the office of clerk of said City is vacant, by the death, removal, resignation or disqualification of that officer, it shall be lawful for any Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of the County of Essex to administer to the officers appointed under the authority of the said Act, the oaths or affirmations required by said Act to be taken and subscribed by such officers, and to file the same with the clerk of said City, when the vacancy of such clerk's office shall be supplied.

Sec. 3. And be it enacted, That the Aldermen of said City shall constitute and be called, "The Common Council of the City of Newark;" that they shall appoint one from their number to be their President, who shall preside at their meetings, but in case of his absence another Alderman may be appointed President pro tempore; and that meetings of the said Common Council shall be held within the said City, at such time and place as is now or may hereafter be appointed by the Ordinances of the Common Council, and by their own adjournment, and a majority of the whole number of Aldermen, shall be a quorum to do business: Provided, That the Mayor and the President of the Common Council, shall respectively be authorized to call special meetings of the Common Council, whenever the public good, in their opinion, shall make it necessary.

Sec. 4. And be it enacted, That no Ordinance, By-law, or Resolution, shall be at any time enacted, altered or repealed, except by the concurrence of all the members of Common Council: Provided, That every Ordinance or By-law passed by the Common Council, shall, before it take effect, be presented to the Mayor and Recorder for their approbation ; if they approve thereof, they shall sign it, if not, they shall, at the next regular or special meeting of the Common Council, state to the said Board their objections thereto, in writing. Whereupon the Council shall again vote ; and if such Ordinance or By-law shall again pass, the same shall take effect notwithstanding the objections of the said Mayor and Recorder : but such objections shall be entered upon the minutes of the Common Council, and published in the newspaper or newspapers employed by the Common Council ; if the said Mayor and Recorder shall not both state their objections at the time specified, such Ordinance or By-law shall take effect in the same manner as if they had signed it.

Sec. 5. And be it enacted, That for the better security of said City against fire, the said Common Council shall have power and authority, by Ordinance or By-law, to prohibit the building or erection of any dwelling house, store, stables, or other building of wood or other combustible materials, within such parts of the said City, as the said Common Council shall, by such Ordinance or By-law, designate.

Sec. 6. And be it enacted, That the Mayor or Recorder and Aldermen of said City, shall not, by virtue of their offices, have or exercise any of the powers, duties or functions of Justices of the Peace in this State, any thing in the act constituting Courts for the trial of small causes in any wise to the contrary notwithstanding.

Sec. 7. And be it enacted, That in case the owner or owners of any lands or real estate necessary to be taken for the laying out, opening, altering, or widening any street, road, highway, or alley in the said City, shall be non compos mentis, or out of the State, or cannot be ascertained on reasonable inquiry, and no agent or legal representative of such owner, can, on like inquiry, be found in this State, then it shall be lawful for the Common Council of the said City to proceed to the appointment of the Commissioners mentioned and provided for in the thirteenth section of the act to which this is a supplement, after publishing in two of the newspapers published in said City, for the space of three weeks, at least once in each week, a notice of the intention of the Common Council to take such land or real estate, and appropriate it for such street, road, highway or alley.

Sec. 8. And be it enacted, That in case the Common Council and the owner of any such land or real estate shall agree upon the sum to be paid therefor, such sum shall constitute a part of the whole amount of damages and expenses to be assessed under and in pursuance of the provisions contained in the thirty-fourth section of the act to which this is a supplement.

Sec. 9; And be it enacted, That in case the owner or owners of any lot or lots, or house and lot, mentioned in the thirty-fourth section of the act to which this act is a supplement, be under age, non compos mentis, out of the State, or cannot be ascertained, on reasonable inquiry made under the direction of the Common Council, and the assessment made on such lot or lots, or house and lot, in pursuance of the provisions of said thirty-fourth section, remain unpaid for the space of thirty days after the same shall be made, it shall be lawful for the Common Council, without demand of such owner or owners, to proceed to the advertisement mentioned in the thirty-fifth section of the act to which this is a supplement, and to the sale provided for in said section, in the manner in said section pointed out.

Sec. 10. And be it enacted, That all actions to be brought, under and by virtue of the fourteenth section of the act to which this is a supplement, for the recovery of any penalty or penalties, created or imposed by any By-law or Ordinance, made and passed by the Common Council of the said City of Newark, may be brought and prosecuted in the name of "The Treasurer of the City of Newark," without specifying the individual name of the Treasurer of said City, for the time being; and that the book of Records of the Ordinances and By-laws of the said Common Council, shall be taken and received as evidence of the due passage of said Common Council, of all Ordinances and By-laws recorded therein; and further, that the publication, by the authority of the Common Council, of their Ordinances and By-laws, in a volume or pamphlet form, shall, in like manner, be taken and received as evidence of the due passage thereof, and that the publication of the said Ordinances and By-laws, in the public newspapers, according to law, shall, in all cases, be presumed to have been made, until the contrary shall be proved.

Sec. 11. And be it enacted, That unless when otherwise directed, the proceedings before the said justice, in every such action, shall, as nearly as may be, be regulated by the provisions of, and conducted in the manner prescribed in and by an act entitled "an act constituting Courts for the trial of small causes," and the several supplements thereto, and that the Court held by every special police justice, in and for the said City of Newark, shall be a Court of Record, and vested for the purposes mentioned, in the act to which this is a supplement, with all such power as is usual in Courts of Record of this State.

Sec. 12. And be it enacted, That every such special justice shall be entitled to use and exercise the like power, authority, and jurisdiction, in all criminal matters, as the justices appointed in and for the several counties of this State are, or may be by law entitled to use and exercise, and that any two of said special police justices, shall be authorized and empowered to hear, try and determine all such matters and complaints of a criminal nature, as any two justices of the peace are or may be by law authorized and empowered to hear by and determine: Provided, That nothing herein contained, shall be so constructed as to constitute the said special police justices, or any of them, members of the General Court of Quarter Sessions of the peace, in and for the County of Essex.

Sec. 13. And be it enacted, That every such special police justice may, in all matters and causes pending before him, award and issue writs of subpoena ad testificandum into any county of this State.

Sec. 14. And be it enacted, That the act to which this is a supplement, and this supplement, shall be deemed and taken to be public acts, and as such, shall be recognized and taken notice of by all persons and Courts of justice, whatsoever, within this State, and that this supplement shall go into operation on the second Monday in April next.

Sec. 15. And be it enacted, That the fourth section of the act to which this is a supplement, be, and the same is, hereby repealed.

PIERSON'S
NEWARK CITY DIRECTORY,
FOR THE
62nd Year of American Independence.

IMPORTANT OBSERVATIONS TO THOSE USING THIS WORK.

Throughout this Directory, the christian names of those where there are more than one of the same surname, are carefully alphabetically arranged, male and female, firms, &c. In searching for a name, the inquirer must know the proper spelling. For example, a person seeking for — Pirsson, will not find the one sought for if he looks in the names of Pierson; so also for — Bonnel, he should not look among the Bunnels: and for Conger not in Congar; and for Parcels not look in Parsals or Parciels; nor for Hays in Hayes.

NEWARK ACADEMY OF MUSIC.

To the Citizens of Newark and its Vicinity.

The undersigned having been engaged for some time in efforts to improve and elevate the character of Sacred Music, feels it highly important that some systematic and permanent plan of operations should be devised and adopted, in order to a more successful prosecution of this desirable object; and if he is not mistaken, the increased, and constantly increasing interest of the public mind upon the subject, demands it.

About the first of May, 1836, soon after becoming a resident of this City, he commenced giving instruction to a small class of children, most of whom, to the number of about thirty-five, continued to attend to the close of the second quarter, at which time we gave a public exhibition of the progress they had made which seemed to be the means of awakening a more general interest in the minds of parents and others, and resulted in the accession of more than double the number to the class at the commencement of the third quarter. The adult class which was formed about the same time, has been less prosperous, as was to be expected; yet it is in some measure encouraging. A number of scholars have also commenced a course of lessons on the Piano Forte; and also some family and private classes in Vocal Music.

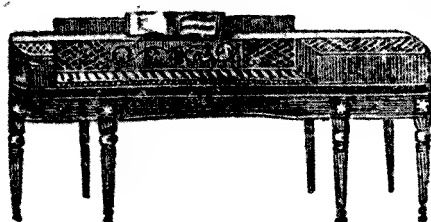

These encouragements, together with other considerations, and advice of friends, have induced him to procure and fit up a suit of rooms in the new brick building on the corner of Broad and Commerce streets, for the accommodation of classes and private scholars in Vocal and Instrumental Music, under the title of the "NEWARK ACADEMY OF MUSIC." The object of establishing this Institution is, to concentrate effort, and bring all suitable means to bear upon the diffusion of knowledge and correct taste, in music generally; but more especially Sacred Music, and as far as possible make it a branch of Education, and thus take the most direct, if not the only effectual step towards raising it to the rank it should hold in the estimation of a christian community.

Music has long been pursued as a branch of Education in Germany and Switzerland; and in many parts of those countries, it is deemed an indispensable qualification of a teacher of common schools. The result is, that this noble and enlivening part of worship, can be properly performed by a whole congregation. But this is not all: Music of a chaste, moral character has been extensively introduced among children and youth of all classes, with the happiest effect. It has become a favorite recreation, at once healthful and innocent—cheering their labors, and sweetening their social enjoyments.

In order to meet the expectations and wishes of all, the co-operation and assistance of an experienced teacher of the Piano Forte and Flute, (Mr. John C. Emerson,) has been engaged; as also the assistance of a German gentleman, (Mr. Jacob Muller,) who will give lessons to German scholars in their own language, if desired: and all suitable exertions will be made to merit a continuance of the liberal patronage which has hitherto been received.

DANIEL CHURCH, JR.
